Zolkiew, January 6.

THE Count de Schafigotz, who hath for ſome time reſided at this Court as Envoy Extraordinary from the Emperor, parted from hence this Week for Moldavia and Valachia, having acquainted the King of Poland, that he had Orders from his Imperial Majeſty, to ſollicite thoſe Princes to caſt off the Subjection they are under to the Ottoman Port, and to join their Arms with thoſe of the Emperor and his Allies. The Envoy from the Cham of Tartary, though the Propoſals he made on the part of the Turks are abſolutely rejected, is ſtill here, and, it's believed, he will not be ſent back, till we have an account of the arrival of the Poliſh Ambaſſadors at Moſcow, and of the Succeſs they are like to have in their Negotiation there, according to which, it's probable, ſome Overtures may be made to the Tartars, to ſeparate them from the Turks. Several Perſons who come from Perſia, report, that that King having heard of the great Succeſſes of the Chriſtians againſt the Turks, had reſolved likewiſe to make War upon them, and that his Forces began to march for that purpoſe towards Bagdet. The King continues in his Reſolution to command his Army in Perſon the next Campagne, and has again aſſured the Pope's Nuncio, in an Audience he had of his Majeſty this week, That he will be in the Field before the end of May.

Genoua, Jan. 19. The Devonſhire, the Reſerve, the Mary and Thomas, and the Samuel, are on their departure for Leghorne, and the Euſton for Palermo. By a Veſſel arrived in this Port from Toulon, we have advice, that ſeveral light Frigats are fitting out there, to cruiſe againſt the Pyrats of Sally. The Prince of Monaco parted from hence the 15th Inſtant in one of this States Gallies, to return home.

Venice, Jan. 26. Captain General Moroſini has ſent hither a great many Veſſels which are to tranſport the Soldiers that arrive daily at the Lido, as well as Proviſions to Corfou. The Duke of Hanouer has let the Senate know, that 2600 Men of his Troops are marching towards the place where they are to embark for the Morea, part of which are to recruit thoſe he has already in the Service of this Republick. The Troops of the Milaneze are expected the next Month at the Lido, the Difficulties that remained about the execution of the Treaty concluded with the Count de Melgar, being wholly removed. The Landtgrave of Heſſe-Caſſell has, we are told, likewiſe promiſed to aſſiſt the Republick with 2000 Men; And with theſe Succors, and the Troops now raiſing by this State, we are aſſured the Republick will have the next Campagne an Army of 30000 fighting Men. The Captain General Moroſini has formed a Regiment of Maynotes, which is compoſed of 24 Companies, 100 Men in each, of which he has made Signior Paolo Maeri Colonel. They write from Cattaro, that the Heydukes and Morlaques continue their Incurſions into the Ottoman Territories, from whence they return for the moſt part laden with Plunder. We have received Letters from Coron, which give a more particular Account than we had before of the Action that lately happened in their Neighborhood. They tell us, that the Turks having drawn together to the number of 4000 Men, poſted themſelves not far from Coron, with an intention to attack that place, of which the Governor Signior Grioti having given notice to Signior Molino, who was Cruiſing in thoſe Seas with the Ships under his Command, he ſailed towards Calamata, and took on Board his Ships 800 Men of that Gariſon; and a conſiderable number of Grecians and Maynotes, who very readily offered their Service in this occaſion, which he afterwards landed again near Coron, with 600 Men drawn out of his Ships, with theſe joined 1500 of the Gariſon of Coron; The Turks in the mean time made ſeveral Retrenchments to ſecure their Camp, but were not able to defend them when attacked by the Chriſtians, who in a ſhort time made themſelves Maſters of thoſe Works, and then engaging the Enemies Horſe, entirely routed them, above 500 of the Turks were killed upon the place, as many were taken Priſoners, and the reſt fled in great confuſion, leaving their Baggage, and a great quantity of Arms and Proviſions in the hands of the Chriſtians.

Vienna, Jan. 24. The Emperor has appointed Commiſſioners to treat with the Envoys from Tranſilvania, who, we are told, offer a Sum of Money to free that Countrey from Winter-quarters; but it is ſtill believed, that this is not the onely Buſineſs they are ſent hither upon. General Caraffa has intercepted a Letter from Count Teckeley, written with his own hand, to his Wife the Princeſs Ragotzi, in which he acquaints her, that he was reſtored to his Liberty, and ſhould return very ſuddenly, but this is lookt upon as a politick Contrivance of the Turks, who, it's believed, obliged Teckeley to write this Letter, and then ordered it ſo, that it ſhould fall into the hands of the Imperialiſts, thereby to diſpoſe this Court to accept of their Propoſals of Peace. An Expreſs arrived here this week from Berlin, with a Liſt of the Troops his Electoral Highneſs intends to ſend to the Emperor's aſſiſtance, in purſuance of the late Treaty concluded between them, which will be commanded by General Schoning, and will begin their march the firſt of April; But we do not hear that the Treaty with the Elector of Saxony for 6000 Men is yet concluded. The Count de Herberſtein, who is to command the Gallies of Malta the next Summer againſt the Turks, embarked the 6th Inſtant at Zeng; And the Count de Stroſoldo is made Governor of Carelſtadt during his abſence.
